

The People's Column

This is a big day for Bryan. The second day of the Ninth District Parent-Teacher Association convention is well under way, with its good programs and interesting delegates. In addition to the convention, a circus also is in the city. This is not the usual season of the year for a circus, but Bryan is such a prosperous city that shows figure they can do well here any old time. The circus will be welcomed both by the kiddies and by the older citizens, all of whom enjoy wild animals and other attractions that go with a circus.

Witnesses Are Heard In Trial Of Oil Scandal

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—Secrecy which the government charges cloaked the leasing of the Teapot Dome to Harry Sinclair occupied the prosecution today in the conspiracy trial of the wealthy oil operator with a number of witnesses being heard in quick succession, despite the maintenance of "rapidity" which marked the testimony. However the actual case progressed slowly due to duplication of testimony of many witnesses going over the same ground. This primarily concerned the failure of Albert Fall to follow the competitive bidding policy of handling the Teapot Dome and subsequent reticence on his part as to the fact that Sinclair's proposal had been accepted.

With more than one hundred and fifty delegates and visitors already registered and Bryan and College communities largely represented the opening meeting plainly evidenced the deep interest now being shown everywhere in the important work of the P-T. A. After the invocation by Rev. R. S. Marshall, pastor of the First Methodist church, a concert of excellent chorus singing, was given under the direction of Mrs. D. C. McIntosh, Ninth District P-T. Mrs. Bender was followed by Mrs. Lee Knight of Temple, district vice president, who responded to the words of welcome for the district. Mrs. E. O. E. R. Bryant Is Back From Tulsa

E. R. Bryant returned today from the spring buying convention of the store managers and buyers of the J. C. Penney Company which just closed in Tulsa, Okla. Mr. Bryant reports that the managers in attendance unanimously agreed that the spring convention this year was the most successful one in the history of the company. The buying session which opened after the formal convention, gave Mr. Bryant an opportunity to select merchandise for the next six months from the widest selection and range of merchandise ever displayed by their New York buyers.

The trend of style in women's apparel is turning from the slim boyishness of past seasons, Mr. Bryant said. This fact was brought out by the stylist of the company at the convention in stressing the feminine softer line among the latest fashions shown.

"The greatest benefits I derived from the convention," said Mr. Bryant when questioned, "were from the interchange of ideas with the other managers and the close-ups afforded me of the latest styles. I hope to pass these on in service and value to my customers."

HARMONY MEETING

The "harmony" meeting in Dallas Saturday proved to be as its name would indicate, and when it was over, Governor Dan Moody was proclaimed leader of Texas Democracy. Governor Moody had contended for an unqualified delegation for prohibition, which would unite support the party nominee, whether he be "wet" or "dry." The Governor was the hero of the meeting, receiving the greatest acclaim of the many brilliant speakers. He was especially applauded when he indirectly referred to Tom Love by saying that he (Moody) never had used prohibition to further his own private interests. The Governor said that the Democratic party was the only agency the people had to look to for relief from graft and corruption, and that this agency must not be weakened by internal strife over prohibition. He previously had stated that any Democrat would be better than a Republican. The Governor, however, expressed his opposition to Al Smith, stating that the New York Governor did not fit into the present situation. Governor Moody will head the Texas delegation to the national Democratic convention in June.

Ninety-eight federal structures will be built soon by the government at an expense not to exceed $68,000,000. While Andrew Mellon is trying to make such a record in his economical handling of the government's money, he might use some of it in the improvement of our post office buildings. The post office in Bryan is entirely inadequate, and many of our citizens are unable to rent boxes. When many of our post office buildings were erected, it must have been thought that the cities never would grow or postal business increase.

New York City, the center of commerce and industry of the United States, paused Saturday to pay last tribute to one of its most illustrious citizens, the late Chauncey Depew. Mr. Depew was both a great lawyer and financier, but retained the human qualities that usually are found most abundant in the small town citizen. His rare sense of humor and knowledge of how to play as well as to work won him the title "The Man Without an Enemy."

Stone Mountain in Georgia, the largest single piece of rock in the world, has been unveiled. The memories of Robert E. Lee, Jefferson Davis, and Stonewall Jackson will be perpetuated on this mountain as long as time. Lee and Jackson are two of the greatest generals in American history, and Davis, who has been done an injustice by history deserves to rank among our foremost statesmen in American history along with George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Army boards from Washington will inspect A. and M. College and Allen Academy in the near future. Last year A. and M. again was given the "distinguished" rating, while Allen Academy was accorded the "honor rating" being the first Texas school ever to gain this distinction. No other city in the United States is the home of both a "distinguished" and "honor" school.

Bryan is glad to welcome the members and delegates of the Ninth District Parent-Teacher Association, who will meet here Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. The members of this organization are among the best friends of our educational system, which is the keystone of liberty, learning, and contentment.

The annual meeting of the Texas Forestry Association will be held at A. and M. College April 27. It is startling the rate in which our forests are disappearing; most of our virgin timber has been cut down, much of which has been wasted. However, few of us doubt that if a shortage exists science will come to the rescue with a sensational discovery.

Lack of acreage upon which to grow the necessities of life is again creating acute conditions in China. The country is so over populated that it is impossible to raise enough food for the country. This condition is becoming an international situation.

JENKINS-CLAREY

The marriage of Miss Ruby Clarey to Harry Jenkins was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist parsonage by Rev. R. S. Marshall. Both young people are well known here and their many friends wish them much happiness.

Beneath The Court House Steeple

One of the most interesting places in Bryan is the court house, "the temple of justice," as our orators of yesterday were wont to say. In most county seat cities the size of Bryan the town is built around the court house, which plays a more prominent part in the community than does the local court house. Bryan schools and other attractions which detract attention from the court house, but it is none the less interesting or the less important.

County Superintendent D. J. McDonald said that he had devoted much of Wednesday to the ratifying campaign, and had visited several schools, including Alexander, Knob Prairie, and Bryan negro school. He was accompanied by Mr. Spencer, who is here as a special representative in the campaign.

Neither County Clerk A. S. McSwain nor County Judge Horace Ferguson were in their offices, but Mr. McSwain's accommodating deputy was in, and in the way of news she was kind enough to contribute a little to this column by stating that real estate transfers were less frequent right now than at any other time in years. This would indicate that those who do not have any land do not want to buy any, and those who have it cannot sell it. Both Judge Ferguson and Mr. McSwain have opposition, and this probably accounts for their absence.

Six rural schools of Brazos county are yet to receive considerable State aid. The amount to be received by each school from the State Department of Education is as follows: Kurten $332; Reliance, $387; Bowman, $167; Smetana, $387; Edge, $659; and Tabor, $125. The amount of State aid depends upon the ratio of the number of teachers to the number of students, County Superintendent McDonald explained.

District Judge W. C. Davis had just arrived from Franklin, where he is holding court. He left early this morning for that little city again. A five-weeks term of district court started Monday, and the criminal docket is quite full. Franklin is an interesting little city, and Judge Davis says that he enjoys his visits there very much.

By the way, Judge Davis is now scheduled to deliver that address of his at the father and son banquet of the Methodist Men's Brotherhood at Caldwell April 19. This is the third time the banquet has been postponed. It originally was scheduled to be held in February. Judge Davis will be unable to say that he was called upon without notice.

Thomas Kraitcher, who is burdened with the titles of warehouse superintendent and secretary of the division highway headquarters here, formerly lived at Caldwell. He was tax collector of Burleson county from 1894 to 1896, and subsequently was city treasurer and alderman for many years. For 12 years he was cashier of the Caldwell National Bank. Mr. Kraitcher is a Methodist, a Mason, a Knight of Pythias, a Woodman of the World, a C. S. P. S., and a S. P. J. S. P.

The Commissioners Court will meet at the court house Monday. The law says that it shall convene the second Monday in each month. One of the things to come up is the remedying of the court house clock situation. The hands of time on the four clocks refuse to co-operate.

Engineer J. E. Blair was in Hearn Wednesday. It was stated in his office that the paving of the highway near Millican is being held up on account of failure to secure a right of way.

A committee recently selected Bryan's most valuable citizen. One of Bryan's most valuable citizens is Miss Ella Bandelin, the business-like county health nurse. She is doing much to improve the health standards of Brazos county and to instruct our people on health measures and preventatives that will alleviate suffering and avoid many tragedies that may be prevented by proper instruction.

It may be of interest to you to know that the county health nurse's office in Bryan is said to be the best equipped in Texas. In this office you will find two demonstration beds, a cupboard, dentist's chair, tables, emergency kit, demonstration box, infants' laves, literature, scales, chairs, typewriter, telephone, and electric fan. Miss Bandelin is from Milwaukee, Wis., and is a graduate of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association School, and the Milwaukee County Agricultural School.

She came down to Texas to glean a broader experience as conditions, she says, are so different in Texas than in Wisconsin. There is more acute poverty in Texas than in the North. The negroes, of course, present quite a problem in this respect. The attendance at schools in the North is better, and they do not tolerate violations of the law which says that students MUST attend school up to a certain age. We wink at it in Texas. Children in Texas, she says, thrive on molasses, corn bread and greens, while in the North they prefer milk, eggs, various dairy products, and winter vegetables. Heating, lighting, and sanitation are better in the North. We must admit in shame. Our school buildings in Texas are poorly lighted, especially the negro schools. She says that the light in most of our negro schools is so poor that you cannot test the students' eyes. Many of the homes are "dark as pitch," she adds. There is much more eye trouble among infants and children in Texas than in the North, and this, she says, is due largely to carelessness and ignorance.

Miss Bandelin gives special instruction to the negroes in health measures. Before she came here she had not given a single lesson. Now every two weeks an interested class of 53 gathers at her office to receive instruction.

Extension Service Club Has Meeting

The Extension Service Club met with Mrs. N. F. Rode, Thursday, April 5, with Mesdames A. W. Buchanan, and W. H. Dancy as joint hostesses. After a short business session Mrs. M. R. Bentley gave a most interesting report on her trip to Baylor Belton the 27th annual convention Fourth District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Roll call was interesting from reports on current events given by different members. Mrs. W. H. Darrow was leader of the day and with her attractive personality she gave an interesting discussion of the Literary Guild books. Mrs. S. C. Evans discussed "That Man Heine," in conjunction with the leader.

Those present were: Mesdames G. W. Barnes, R. M. Bentley, A. W. Buchanan, W. H. Darrow, J. T. Egan, S. C. Evans, R. R. Lancaster, S. A. McMillan, E. A. Miller, J. S. Mogford, R. R. Reppert, N. F. Tabor Makes Gift to Orphan's Home

A thoughtful and loving gift at this Easter tide, was the contribution of 2 cases—60 dozen—eggs shipped this week to the children in Buckner Orphan Home at Dallas by the members of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union of the Cottonwood Baptist church of Tabor, Brazos county. From the poultry farms of that prosperous community, the boys and girls, men and women brought to the church the freshest and best eggs in baskets and boxes, as donations to the orphan children's Easter egg hunt, to be given on the grounds at Buckner Home in Dallas, Saturday afternoon. Shipment of the eggs was made early this week to insure arrival in Dallas in time.

College of Texas April 23. These contests, held under the supervision of the school of vocational teaching and the school of agriculture of the college, call for completion in five events, livestock judging, farm mechanics, poultry and egg judging, plant production and entomology.

Indications are that the attendance this year will be the largest in the history of the contests in Texas. Attendance last year totaled 300 boys. Attendance in 1926 was 700 but all of these were not contestants.

J. J. Brown, assistant director of vocational agriculture, State department of education, Austin, a recent visitor at the college, declared that "the Department at Austin feels that the contests for vocational agricultural students this year will be the largest in attendance ever held at A. and M."

Attendance At Public Schools In Bryan This Year 20 Per Cent Better Than Last Year Shows Supt. Durham

Bryan has four public school buildings whose approximate value is a quarter of a million dollars. Forty-six teachers are employed. More than 1,600 students are enrolled. The attendance this year has increased 20 per cent. There are 215 more names on our scholastic census for next year than were on this year.

The average daily attendance last year, according to the report to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction was 1,027. This year the average number in daily attendance is 1,421.

There are three reasons for this growth in the number of students attending our schools. One hundred more students from contiguous territory have attended our city schools this session than last. This, however, does not account for the largest part of the increase. It will be noted that on an average each day this year there have been 394 more than each day last year. By no means do the transfers account for the increase. More students of school age who were in Bryan last year actually attended this year. Then, by far the largest of the three factors is that there are just more children of school age in Bryan this year than last.

In 1920 Bryan had a population of 6,305. We now have 8,500. Bryan is growing and we are having to meet the normal increase in scholastic population.

Bryan has a nation-wide reputation as a city of schools and churches.

High School
Bryan high school is one of the outstanding secondary schools in the state. It is accredited by the State Department of Education with 28 1-2 units. Furthermore it is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the highest affiliating agency in the south. Students graduating from Bryan high may enter without examination any college or university in the South. The local school ranks with the upper 10 per cent of schools sending graduates on to institutions of learning. There are sixty-eight in the senior class.

Three hundred and forty have been enrolled this year. Fifteen teachers are employed. There are 24 rooms. The auditorium seats 750. The campus is a block square. Miss Wesa Weddington is principal of this school. All teachers have degrees and three of them have the master's degree. In addition to the high school proper the old building is still used. In this structure is housed the gymnasium, manual training, sewing, cooking, mechanical drawing and the cafeteria.

A full-time librarian is employed. Great stress is laid on the use of the library. Every student in high school must spend at least one period a day here.

High Scholarship, Improvement In Extra Curricula Activities And New Interest Accredited To Supt. Durham

Since July of 1927, Harry L. Durham has been superintendent of the City Schools of Bryan. The organization, efficiency, and progress of the high, graded, and colored schools speak for his ability as an administrator. The enrollment this year shows a total of 1,622 students, making an increase of 265 over last year. Over $2,000 worth of equipment has been added to the high school including desks, laboratory facilities, and library books.

This year has witnessed a great interest in athletics and school spirit than has manifested in Bryan High School for the past several years. As a result the high school won the county championship in basketball, and has been raised from Class B to Class A in athletics.

Due to the completion of Allen Academy and A. and M. College, the athletic finances of the Bryan high school have for several years been on the rocks. The administration conceived and enacted an athletic plan, backed by the business men of Bryan, which has not only raised athletics out of debt, but has given a financial surplus. According to this plan, each service club appointed its president plus one other member, making a total of four members. These members selected three other members and appointed a business manager who supervised the gate receipts and arranged athletic schedules. After an expensive athletic schedule, the football season closed with a financial balance of $800 which sum will be used as a payment on a new athletic field.

This year for the first time, the county meet of the Interscholastic League was held in Bryan. So great an interest was stimulated that 150 students participated in the city-wide elimination. Of the 48 that entered the county meet, 32 won first places and will represent Bryan in the district meet at Brenham, April 12th and 13th.

Under the instigation of Superintendent Durham a Hi-Y Club has been organized in high school, sponsored by Dr. Jno. W. Black, counsellor, and Clarence Parker, faculty representative. This club limits its membership to juniors and seniors; it is an elective organization and is based on the principles of the Y. M. C. A. work.

West Side Elementary

Some twenty-five years ago the city school board of Bryan, seeing the crowded condition of the one school building and the hazards of going across town, planned an expansion program that would put the lowest grades in reach of all the small children. The first step in this program was taken in the opening of a four room building in 1905, accommodating about 120 children. As the town continued to grow the attendance increased and in 1920 some temporary wooden rooms were placed in the yard. At the same time the number of grades was raised to seven.

In 1921 the city commission submitted a bond issue with a view to eliminating the wooden shacks and beginning a building sufficient to take care of the 300 then enrolled in the school. As a result of this bond issue, the first unit of a modern building was opened to the classes—this unit having four classrooms, a playroom, and all modern conveniences. The city hopes to clear the way this year for a splendid increase in educational facilities; and in this program will be included the completion of the other unit of this building, giving it an adequate number of classrooms along with an auditorium, gymnasium, offices, etc.

The first principal of the school was T. W. Parker, now county superintendent of Tom Greene county, and he was followed in 1907 by the present incumbent, C. M. Bethany. Mr. Parker was a product of Sam Houston Teachers College, while Mr. Bethany hails from the University of Texas. The teaching force has steadily grown from three to eight. All the teachers have had abundant training under experts in the colleges of Texas and other states.

The first Parent-Teacher Association was organized in 1921 and this splendid organization has steadily functioned with growing interest. A splendid feeling of fellowship has grown among parents and teachers and much equipment has been added. Various sets of reference works for the library, pictures for the class rooms and swings, seesaws, slides, giant strides, horizontal bars, trapeze, courts for basketball and volleyball and other things have been placed on the playground and in the play room. With the backing of this municipality, the services of these efficient growing teachers and the help of this P. T. A. the West Side school sees the gleam of the bright light of futurity and looks forward to that day when as a fully component part of Bryan's system it can fulfill the dream of the pioneers.

Buying in Bryan

With Nell Bentley

Dear Shoppers:

Our advertisers this week have all made special request that I extend their greetings to our guests for the Ninth District Parent-Teacher Association Convention, and tell them that the show windows and the shops have all been "dressed up" in their honor. We are just as proud of our shopping facilities in Bryan as we are of any other public feature, which contributes to the general slogan, "It's Better in Bryan."

Our visitors are to consider themselves as the guests of our merchants, as well as the schools and homes of our little city; and they are extended a cordial welcome to enjoy our shops and the lovely displays arranged specially for them.

And what of our visitors? Bless their hearts! Aren't they just about the liveliest bunch Bryan and College Station has had the pleasure of entertaining in some time. And don't we appreciate the fact that they chose Bryan and College Station as their convention setting for 1928? Are they a "Petite Brigade"? No! No! Rather, they are a group of wide awake, well dressed, Texas women; with a purpose that gives them a wholesome interest in the things of life dealing with our homes, our schools, our churches, and our general community programs. The group observed by the writer today included tall women, short women, fat women, thin women; women who hurried, women who appeared to have ample leisure and so we might describe in detail type after type; but the important thing is that they are women who have left their homes to be our guests for three days, and to share in this splendid Convention with its worthy theme of "An Educated Parenthood."

It is our pleasure to say again, that our advertisers join the citizenship of Bryan and College in saying, "Welcome to our city; what you want is yours, if you but ask."

Yours for Better Shopping Service,

NELL BENTLEY.

It is worth a trip out to W. W. Hall's shop on South College Avenue just to see the genuine old furniture he is restoring. He specializes in the refinishing of old furniture, either antique or of more modern vintage. Give your house furnishings a new dress occasionally. Mr. Hall knows how to do it well.

W. D. Lawrence tells me that his Phelps 6 ply Guaranteed Tires are selling "top-notch." This tire must be of superior construction, else the company could not make a one-year guarantee covering so large a scope of hazard, and without a service charge for the guarantee. If you have had experience with "sending tires in" for adjustment, you will appreciate the fact that Mr. Lawrence makes all adjustments on Phelps Tires right here in Bryan. There is no delay and no transportation charges.

If you want to fool the family on the food question, just plan some gelatine desserts and salads and leave them in the ice-box while you go to the Parent-Teacher Convention, nobody will guess that you have been gone all day. Call Stephan Ice Co., and get the old refrigerator all "fired up" ready to do your cooking for you while you enjoy the meetings. "You buy the 'Ice' and they throw in the 'Service.'" Some shiny new trucks are just waiting for your order.

The most elusive and charming shades of blue, green and gold, fairly dance about on the new Jontel Cloth Pump at Wilson Bradley's. The silk kid heel is equally pretty. This shoe is "designed" to be popular. Get yours while the stock is full on lasts and sizes.

G. M. John, Head Florist at Bryan Nursery and Floral Co., is producing some wonderful specimens of cut-flowers right here in Bryan. He can furnish you all the seasonal "posies", in all the popular shades. Let him arrange your corsages, centerpieces, bouquets or any specially arranged pieces for special occasions. Home grown flowers are fresher and last longer than those shipped from a distance. Bedding plants, both yard flowers and vegetables, are just right to set now; and remember that "F. L. T." means Florist Telegraph Delivery.

The Real Hat Shop is on Bryan Street, and we commend it to our visitors as "one of the beauty spots of Bryan." As the name indicates, this shop specializes in Millinery, which means that it holds an interest for the feminine world in Bryan at all seasons of the year. The artistic arrangement of stock, and ample floor space makes one feel comfortable to shop around and enjoy all the pretty things before making a selection. Even the wee miss will find things specially arranged for her in the De De Bright Department. You get style and beauty in every hat, the prices ranging from $1.95 to $3.95 and upwards. Accessories, such as bags, corsages, chrysal ornaments, ribbons, etc., are there for your choosing. Also embroidered shawls and mandarin coats to complete the evening ensemble.

The Home Oil Co. wants every user of India Tires to get the maximum of service and efficiency from his purchase, and they invite you to avail yourself of their tire service. Mr. Sandifer says that one of the most frequent reasons for damage to tires and tubes, is running with a pressure too low to properly support the side-wall of your casing. The Home Oil Co. will give you dependable advice as to the best pressure for your tires, based on size, age, weather conditions, etc. Let them test your tires frequently and see that you carry the proper pressure at all times. Red striped India casings, and True Blue Tear-Proof, Heat-Resistant Tubes, will give you relief from summer tire troubles.

There was scarcely more magic in the feats performed by Aladdin with his wonderful lamp, than may be accomplished by one turn of a Lorain "Red-Wheel" oven control on a Dangler Gas Range. You will find the Dangler in all the popular models at E. F. Parks Furniture Co. Every stove has standard burners that give proper heat distribution, and Dangler ovens are built to bake perfectly. Mr. Parks knows just how to operate a small stove with low expenses, and his customers get the benefit in prices on Gas Ranges as well as on other goods in his line.

The Bryan Buick Co. is offering some real bargains in reconditioned Buicks. There was a new model and a "reconditioned" car in the sales room, both four-door sedans, and I had to ask which was the new car. When you buy a Buick, you but a neat package into which has been packed thousands of miles of motoring satisfaction. Every reconditioned Buick offered for sale by the Bryan Buick Co. has been restored to mechanical perfection by an expert Buick Service man. It has a coat of Duco finish as perfect as the one it wore away from the factory; and it carries a full set of new tires and accessories. Some of the miles have been taken out of the original package; but the service and satisfaction are still there, and you get the same service guarantee that goes with a new car. The chief difference is in the price. First choice, a new Buick; second choice, a reconditioned Buick.

When you decide to make a gift of Sterling Silver, your choice is half made, for the element of taste is already assured. Sankey Parks has an assortment of Sterling Gift items from which you may safely choose. He has Water-cases, Cream and Sugar, Fruit and Flower Centers, Sandwich or Cake Baskets, Fruit and Salad Bowls, and numerous small pieces both decorative and useful. Individual services in sets, are always good. Whether it is $250 or $2.50, you spend for a gift, Sankey has something to suit your taste.

The fact that more than thirty automobile manufacturers are using Duco finish in their factories is sufficient testimony of the superiority of Duco. If your old car just looks run down at the heels, yet is in good mechanical condition, why not give it a Spring-tonic in the form of a new Duco finish? Hy T. Schovajsa conducts an Authorized Duco Refinishing Station, he has the equipment, and is under bond, to apply Duco to your old car by exactly the same process used in the modern auto-assembly plant. Let him give you an estimate on your car.

Piggly-Wiggly patrons need only their five senses to convince them of the quality of goods dispensed there. Your eyes will tell you that the merchandise is fresh and the prices low. Your nose knows that the store is clean and sanitary. Your hands will tell you when fruits and vegetables are just to your liking. Your ears will catch the courteous "Thank You," which is an essential part of the Piggly-Wiggly service. Your taste will testify that clean food, from a clean store is different.

Visitors to the Parent-Teacher Convention are extended a cordial invitation to drop in at Haswell's Book Store and hear the latest Victor and Brunswick records. April's offering includes Orchestral numbers by Paul Whiteman and his world famous ensemble, Madam Louisa Homer in Sacred numbers, John McCormick, in Scotch Ballads, Schuman-Heink, Pablo Casals and Alfred Cortot, as well as some popular hits. There are two good numbers on every record.

We will soon be observing National Music Week, and our attention will be more than ever directed to the influence of music in the home. If you have a phonograph in your home you may have the best music available by choosing from Haswell's stock of Victory and Brunswick records. Take some home with you.

SPINNERS HERE

Within the next few days a group of German spinners will visit the John D. Rogers cotton breeding farm with a view of studying the merits of a good staple cotton of uniform length. Mr. Rogers has made a success of growing only one variety of cotton on his farm, and it should be of interest to every Brazos county farmer to know that foreign spinners are making their way to Allen Farm because of the fine cotton grown there.

Football Boys Work On Field

Bryan's efficient football coach of Bryan high school team and his plucky football boys have spent much of their spare time during the past week, improving the football grounds at Edge Field. Clearing away the big rock that have been so dangerous and such a dread during the past years, Coach Poe and his team of boys worked all day Saturday leveling and smoothing the grounds and then with trucks hauled fresh dirt to fill in the hollows and holes and made the surface level and free from rocks. The boys and their coach are looking forward to next season, which already promises to put Bryan high in the front ranks of football records.

D. D. McAlphine Is Buried Here

The funeral of Donald D. McAlphine, who died at his home in Houston, Thursday afternoon, was held in Bryan Friday at 4 p. m. from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. Coulter Smith on College Road. Services at the home and at the grave in the city cemetery were conducted by Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist church. A large crowd of friends gathered to pay the last tribute of loving friendship to the deceased, and a wealth of flowers from friends in Houston, Bryan and other nearby towns covered the new made grave at the cemetery.

Mr. D. D. McAlphine was 64 years and 21 days of age at the time of his death. For many months, he had been ill and confined to his bed, and death came sweetly to give peace to his pain racked body.
